THE REPLY FILED 26 April 2004 FAILS TO PLACE THIS APPLICATION IN CONDITION FOR ALLOWANCE. Therefore, further action by the applicant is required to avoid abandonment of this application. A proper reply to a final rejection under 37 CFR 1.113 may only be either: (1) a timely filed amendment which places the application in condition for allowance; (2) a timely filed Notice of Appeal (with appeal fee); or (3) a timely filed Request for Continued Examination (RCE) in compliance with 37 CFR 1.114.
PERIOD FOR REPLY [check either a) or b)]
a) The period for reply expires 3 months from the mailing date of the final rejection. b) The period for reply expires on: (1) the mailing date of this Advisory Action, or (2) the date set forth in the final rejection, whichever is later. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the mailing date of the final rejection. ONLY CHECK THIS BOX WHEN THE FIRST REPLY WAS FILED WITHIN TWO MONTHS OF THE FINAL REJECTION. See MPEP 706.07(f). Extensions of time may be obtained under 37 CFR 1.136(a). The date on which the petition under 37 CFR 1.136(a) and the appropriate extension fee have been filed is the date for purposes of determining the period of extension and the corresponding amount of the fee. The appropriate extension fee under 37 CFR 1.17(a) is calculated from: (1) the expiration date of the shortened statutory period for reply originally set in the final Office action; or (2) as set forth in (b) above, if checked. Any reply received by the Office later than three months after the mailing date of the final rejection, even if timely filed, may reduce any earned patent term adjustment. See 37 CFR 1.704(b).
1. A Notice of Appeal was filed on Appellant's Brief must be filed within the period set forth in 37 CFR 1.192(a), or any extension thereof (37 CFR 1.191(d)), to avoid dismissal of the appeal.
2. The proposed amendment(s) will not be entered because:
(a) ☑ they raise new issues that would require further consideration and/or search (see NOTE below);
(b) ☐ they raise the issue of new matter (see Note below);
(c) they are not deemed to place the application in better form for appeal by materially reducing or simplifying the issues for appeal; and/or
(d) they present additional claims without canceling a corresponding number of finally rejected claims.
NOTE: See Continuation Sheet.

Continuation of 2. NOTE: Numerous revisions including "development platform web server" requiring at least further consideration and possibly upon consideration additional search.

Continuation of 5. does NOT place the application in condition for allowance because: Applicant's arguments are not persuasive. First, IVR is a call flow as it goes over the telephone in a "call". Second, the platform is at least the use of web and IVR. Third, Applicant's assertion as to the translation of web menu is not supported by the cited prior art. Furthermore, the operator being capable of monitoring the translation process necessarily receives the phone application code (needed for understanding and monitoring the translation) as provided in column 8, lines 12-16. Fourth, IVR provides for phone application code (code used for phone purposes). The operator is monitoring the IVR system and thus gaining access to the "call flow". House is combined with Burg for code development/monitoring purposes. Fifth, in regard to claim 15, the discussed passage illustrates customers accessing a web interface using IVR code. Sixth, the passage indicates URI through the web server connections and accessing. Finally, the above limitations read upon the cited prior art under their broadest reasonable interpretations of "call flow" and so forth. With respect to the question of House, column 7, lines 8-17, it is clear from the passage that an operator/administrator is able to select through varying means for debugging (events; breakpoints and techniques), additionally at least multiple breakpoints provides for multiple types of debugging events. Thus, the rejections are maintained..
